| 1. Statement | planations supporting such statement | |
|-------------------------------|--------------------------------------|--------|
| Novelty (N) | Claims NONE | YES |
| | Claims 1-36 | NO |
| Inventive step (IS) | Claims NONE | YES |
| | Claims 1-36 | NO |
| Industrial applicability (IA) | Claims 1-36 | VEO |
| | Claims NONE | YES NO |

2. Citations and explanations:

Claims 1-63 lack novelty under PCT Article 33(2) as being anticipated by Granger et al. Granger discloses misuse resistive transdermal opioid dosage form comprising addictive drug and its antagonist that is released upon ingestion of the dosage form or solvent immersion. The opioid is present in the dosage form separated from the antagonist wherein the antagonist is encapsulated.

Claims 1-36 lack an inventive step under PCT Article 33(3) as being obvious over Granger et al. Granger discloses misuse resistive transdermal opioid dosage form comprising addictive drug and its antagonist that is released upon ingestion of the dosage form or solvent immersion. The opioid is present in the dosage form separated from the antagonist wherein the antagonist is encapsulated.

Claims 1-36 meet the criteria set out in PCT Article 33(4), and thus have industrial applicability because the subject matter claimed can be made or used in industry.
